THE 28th Inſtant being her Czariſh Majeſty's Birth-Day, it was celebrated with the greateſt Magnificence. The Czarina dined in the great Hall of the Palace under a Canopy, with the two Princeſſes, and was ſerved by her Great Officers. All the Foreign Miniſters and Ruſs Nobility dined at a large Table that went quite round the Hall, at which ſat above 200 Perſons: In the Evening there was a Ball, Illuminations, and a very fine Firework play'd off. The ſame Day her Majeſty was pleaſed to declare Prince Kourakin her Maſter of the Horſe, Lieutenant General Volensky Grand Veneur, and M. Nepleoff, who was Reſident at Conſtantinople, a Privy Councellor.
